REQUIREMENTS

Problem Description

It occurs now and then in real life that people want to write about money, especially about a certain amount of money. If it comes to checks or contracts for example some nations have laws that state that you should write out the amount in words additionally to the amount in numbers to avoid fraud and mistakes. So if you want to transfer 745 $ to someone via check you have to fill out to fields:

745.00 $ (amount in numbers)

seven hundred and forty-five dollars (amount in words)

The Kata is now to write a little converter class or function (depends on your favorite language and flavor) to convert numbers into words.
